

Observing the Moon and describing its features.

After looking at the moon using a telescope or binoculars draw on the picture of the moon below as many features as you can.

See if you describe the features of the moon below.
